Honorable Paul B. Fay, Jr.
Under Secretary of the Navy
Department of the Navy
Washington, D. C. 20350

Dear Mr. Fay:

Thank you for your cordial letter of 3 December 1963 to Mr. McCone. On his behalf I accept with pleasure your invitation to the Central Intelligence Agency to nominate an official to attend the next Course in Naval Warfare.

The name of our nominee will be sent to you early in 1964 along with the background information you request and certification of necessary security clearances. We will want him to attend the familiarization training program before the course starts.

We appreciate your generous statement that CIA representatives have brought something of value to the program at the Naval War College. We have a high regard for the Course in Naval Warfare and are convinced that our participants, and the Agency in turn, have profited greatly by their attendance. We hope this helpful association will continue.

Faithfully yours,

Marshall S. Carter
Lieutenant General, USA

Dear Mr. McCone:

For a number of years civilian officials of the Central Intelligence Agency have participated in the resident course in Naval Warfare at the United States Naval War College. The participation of these officials has been highly beneficial and most gratifying to the Department of the Navy. Their contributions to the professional educational program conducted by the Naval War College have been important factors in improving the effectiveness of the program. Also, I believe this year of study at the Naval War College likewise has been highly beneficial to the individuals concerned and to the Central Intelligence Agency. The present Naval Warfare class includes Charles D. Ford of your Agency.

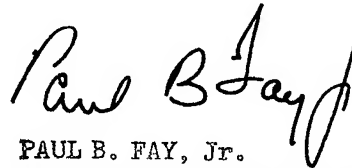

In continuation of the above program I again extend a cordial invitation to the Central Intelligence Agency to nominate one official of appropriate background and experience to attend the Course in Naval Warfare in the 1964-65 session, which will commence on 14 August 1964 and will conclude on 16 June 1965. It is desired that the rank and service experience of your nominee for this course be comparable to that of our Naval officers. Naval officers in the grades of Commander and Captain with sixteen to twenty-three years of commissioned service will be assigned to the Course in Naval Warfare.

Students at the Naval War College receive during their studies classified material up to and including TOP SECRET RESTRICTED DATA. It is therefore necessary that the nominee of the Central Intelligence Agency have an active AEC "Q" clearance with specific authorization for access to TOP SECRET RESTRICTED DATA.

As in the past, a familiarization training program for personnel of other military services and civilian officials will be conducted before the opening of the regular session. This program, of one week duration, will consist of lectures, tours of Naval installations, and short cruises on Atlantic Fleet ships including submarines. Your nominee is invited to take part in this familiarization training program. To do so he should report to the President of the Naval War College not later than 6 August 1964.

Information at an early date as to your acceptance of the foregoing invitational quota would be appreciated. If your response is favorable, I would like the name of your nominee at such time as he has been selected together with the following information: a resume of his background and experience; a certification of security investigations completed and clearance held; and a statement of authorization for access to TOP SECRET RESTRICTED DATA.

Sincerely yours,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, reading "Paul B Fay Jr".

Mr. K - pls note

It happens to be the same.

I discovered I was wrong on this -- this letter was in response to invitation for a nominee to their course in Naval Warfare as the US Naval War College -- not the War College course itself.
